EMAC WELCOME MESSAGES

Prof. Franco Chimenti. Italian Golf Federation President

“For the Italian Golf Federation, 2023 is a historic year. The wait for the Ryder Cup is growing more and more and I am very happy that Italy, in the process of approaching the Europe-USA challenge, has been chosen by the EGA as the host nation of the Mid-Amateur European Championships. The tournament takes place at the Golf Club Bogogno, a prestigious club with a highly technical golf course in a region with a great golfing tradition such as Piedmont. I wish all the participants a lot of fun and I thank the Competition Committee and all the staff who, with commitment and passion, contribute to the success of the event. Through these competitions, the international image of Italy will see its appeal increase as a country with a strong golf vocation and as a tourist destination for all golfers in the world”.

Franco Chimenti

EM AC CONTE COURSE

Presentation | PAR 72
5776 metres for men | 4954 yards for women

The Conte course is a par 72 with a design that is reminiscent of a links course, featuring wide open spaces, numerous flat sections, large lakes and a wild rough in border areas, framed by views of the Monte Rosa massif.

The Conte course was voted Best Golf Course in Italy in 1998 and Best Maintenance in 2011 by Il Mondo del Golf. It has been included in World Golf Awards Nominee since 2014 and in the Top Ten in Italy since 2016.

Furthermore, Bogogno Golf Resort won the IAGTO 2020 Awards – Golf Experience of the year in Italy.

Robert VAN HAGGE, Mike SMELEK, Rick Baril architects

Robert VAN HAGGE, Mike SMELEK, Rick BARIL architects
In 1990 the architects Robert VON HAGGE, mike SMELEK and Rick BARIL started to design the Conte course.
Works initiated in 1994 and the opening of the Golf Club dated in 1997.

The architects said: “It is important that you, as players, can see how the hazards that you will find in front of you on this course are not to be regarded as hazards, but rather as visual statements. They are basically like signs that we have used to suggest the most suitable game tactics for each hole and are to be considered as a guide and approached in a friendly manner. Each course plays on your ability, gradually increasing its difficulty, and grows together with your game.”

During the last 45 years, VHS&B have created more than 250 courses worldwide, in more than 50 cities and 16 countries.

Every year, their courses host an average of 12 major golf events: PGA Tour, Senior PGA Tour, PGA European Tour, national and international open competitions and international amateur tournaments.
